JOHN J. WILD is a distinguished professor of accounting at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. He previously held appointments at Michigan State University and the University of Manchester in England. He received his BBA, MS, and PhD from the University of Wisconsin. John teaches accounting courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. He has received numerous teaching honors, including the Mabel W. Chipman Excellence-in-Teaching Award and the departmental Excellence-in-Teaching Award, and he is a two-time recipient of the Teaching Excellence Award from business graduates at the University of Wisconsin. He also received the Beta Alpha Psi and Roland F. Salmonson Excellence-in-Teaching Award from Michigan State University. John has received several research honors, is a past KPMG Peat Marwick National Fellow, and is a recipient of fellowships from the American Accounting Association and the Ernst and Young Foundation. John is an active member of the American Accounting Association and its sections. He has served on several committees of these organizations, including the Outstanding Accounting Educator Award, Wildman Award, National Program Advisory, Publications, and Research Committees. John is author of Financial Accounting, Managerial Accounting, and College Accounting, all published by McGraw-Hill Education. John's research articles on accounting and analysis appear in The Accounting Review; Journal of Accounting Research; Journal of Accounting and Economics; Contemporary Accounting Research; Journal of Accounting, Auditing and Finance; Journal of Accounting and Public Policy; and other journals. He is past associate editor of Contemporary Accounting Research and has served on several editorial boards including The Accounting Review.

BARBARA CHIAPPETTA received her BBA in Accountancy and MS in Education from Hofstra University and is an emeritus tenured full professor at Nassau Community College. For many decades, she has been an active executive board member of the Teachers of Accounting at Two-Year Colleges (TACTYC), serving 10 years as vice president and as president from 1993 through 1999. As a member of the American Accounting Association, she has served on the Northeast Regional Steering Committee, chaired the Curriculum Revision Committee of the Two-Year Section, and participated in numerous national committees. Barbara has been inducted into the American Accounting Association Hall of Fame for the Northeast Region. She has also received the Nassau Community College dean of instruction's Faculty Distinguished Achievement Award. Barbara was honored with the State University of New York Chancellor's Award for Teaching Excellence. As a confirmed believer in the benefits of the active learning pedagogy, Barbara has authored Student Learning Tools, an active learning workbook for a first-year accounting course, published by McGraw-Hill Education. In her leisure time, Barbara enjoys tennis and participates on a USTA team. She also enjoys the challenge of bridge. Her husband, Robert, is an entrepreneur in the leisure sport industry. She has two sons—Michael, a lawyer specializing in intellectual property law, and David, a composer pursuing a career in music for film. Barbara has been an important member of this book's author team, and her co-authors continue to acknowledge her substantial contributions to prior editions.

KEN W. SHAW is an associate professor of accounting and the KPMG/Joseph A. Silviso Distinguished Professor of Accounting at the University of Missouri. Loose-leaf Fundamental Accounting Principles with Connect Plus Great text for Accounting I & Accounting II courses. Clear, easy-to-follow instructions and examples, along with extensive practice exercises for each chapter. One warning: If text says "with connect plus" it should be a NEW text, otherwise connect plus access code has already been used. If code has been used you will end up needing to purchase a new access code once your instructor gives you the course access to connect plus (mine ran $60). So don't spend a lot for a used text copy; spend for the NEW text if you'd rather be sure. Purchasing an access code from McGraw-Hill Connect website was easy if you can really save on that textbook cost, though.

This book turned out to be a Looseleaf. I was disappointed because the image here shows the book in its original form. Anyway, I'm glad I saved money by purchasing this one instead of the original one. They're the same. The loose leaf is actually pages that have three holes in them. They can be put in a ring binder. The book has a lot of pages, around 1300 so the binder gets very heavy but it's fine. I don't take it to university. I just use it for personal study or practice. In class we are given lectures so I just take notes and then do the homework on Connect.

I purchased Fundamental Accounting Principles 22nd Edition. I bought it new, and it is the newest, shiniest book I've ever seen. If the book is all you need, look no further. However, it did not come with an access code. Other reviewers were stating that it did, so if you need the code, please be advised that you are not guaranteed to get it here.

I didn't mind having to use this textbook. I'm not fantastic with accounting, but the principles were clear and the examples were good.

Nice book easy to follow but this book is thick .

Great product and also shipped fast.

Slightly complex to understand but great book over-all.

bought new and it didn't come with an access code...
