CoderDojo Nano: Building A Website: Create With Code

Synopsis

CoderDojo is the coding club that lets you hang out with other coders, learn new stuff and generally have fun with computers. This amazing CoderDojo book tells you everything you need to know to build your own website. Start by getting your very own Dojo Nano club up and running. All you need is one or more friends, a computer, and this book! Then join the Nanonauts who are learning how to make a website for their band. They'll be sharing their tips on HTML, CSS, and Javascript. With their help you'll soon be able to create a website on any subject you can think of. Starting with the basics, you will quickly progress to the fun parts that make everyone want to visit your website: from adding photos to embedding Youtube videos and Google maps, to making your menu page something to marvel at. It's all at your fingertips. The best book on coding for kids aged 8 and up. There is no better place to start your coding adventure.

CoderDojo is a global movement of free, volunteer-led, community based programming clubs to help young people, between 7 and 17, learn how to code, develop websites, apps, programs, games and explore technology in an informal and creative environment. Within the CoderDojo Movement there is a focus on community, peer learning, youth mentoring and self-led learning. One of the aims is to encourage creativity while having fun in a relaxed, social environment. The global CoderDojo community is supported by the CoderDojo Foundation, which is a registered charity.

CoderDojo Nano: Create with Code Build Your Own Website is the first official CoderDojo book.

Love this book. I'm a coding newb and this helps a lot in terms of delivery and pace. However, it provides links to Scholastic's website for further study and exercises, but the links have been killed and Scholastic no longer offers any form of expansion to the teachings of this book. Boo, Scholastic, boo.

Son loved it very concise and clear instructions and Fun!

This is a great, fun book... extensively tested by Coderdojo kids throughout Ireland and the rest of the world... it's a practical, hands-on, learning-by-doing book for creating web pages. There are many ways to learn programming, but the most intuitive way is to just get started and get your hands dirty. After a few pages of this book, people who have never done a web page before will be thinking "god, that was easy!" After 30 pages, they'll be doing stylesheets, after 50 pages, they'll be doing Javascript... and the good news is, this book keeps it fun and introduces amazing things that keep early programmers motivated. People who have never cooked food before are often amazed how liberating and empowering it is to make something that tastes great by mastering just a few steps and having the right ingredients. If you've never written a web page before, this book will speedily help you feel comfortable in getting the computer to do what you tell it to do. And it will feel great... Tens of thousands of Coderdojo kids from age 7 to 17 have learnt to code in just a few hours and days using techniques illustrated in this book. The book is ideally suited for kids, but, it also works at any age. You don't need any special software to do it... your laptop comes with all the tools you'd need to get started, and free software is available to download from the web to get running.

The associated website is no longer supported. It is not accepting new accounts. This book is worthless. DO NOT BUY THIS BOOK.
