Very small, only about 4 pages of stickers and two pages to stick them on. The whole book is about 10 pages. I've ordered lots of these DK sticker books for my daughter in the past, and theres usually 60 plus pages of activities and stickers so I was expecting a little more for the price. That said, I bought this with a set of deep sea plastic play dudes and my daughter was absolutely thrilled to have both! Happy kid, happy day. :)

We bought several of the Ultimate Glow-in-the-Dark Sticker Books, including Marvel Super Heroes and Fantastic Four. We didn't place the stickers in the book, although there's a matching exercise inside each book if your child prefers that. Although the book claims the sticker can be used again and again (if careful), we didn't find that to be true. The stickers lose their strength and you'll need to use something else to apply them to other materials. I still give this product four stars because the stickers are vivid and the glow in the dark material does last a long time. Our kids decorated some of their plastic toy boxes with these stickers. We "charge" the stickers with flashlights, so that they'll glow as our kids go to sleep. We've also used the stickers on their lunch boxes among other possessions. Here are more sticker books we recommend. These are currently available for 's 4-for-3 promotion. I ordered this stickerbook for my 3 1/2 yr old who LOVES stickerbooks and Spiderman. Too bad it was a disappointment once we realized the book was defective/incomplete. It seems that there was a problem during production because: 1) printing was off on a sheet (2 pages) and thus had staples thru many of the stickers making them unusable; 2) printing error caused glow-in-the-dark feature to fail due to it not having been printed in the right spot on the stickers; and 3) pages of stickers were missing. Had I noticed these issues when I purchased it, I definitely would have returned it. Sadly, my son was the one who noticed these issues and was very disappointed.

I thought there would be more pages.

We are huge fans of the "Ultimate Sticker Books" in our house. My 3 year old likes to do one page before bed and a story. We were excited about this glow in the dark version however, the stickers did not glow. The book is not very big/long either and we finished it in a couple of nights. Still...I think these are great travel books and my son loves the activity of reading about the character, looking at the shape, then finding the sticker on his own.

I love DK products but this one was disappointing. Not all all glow in the dark as promised--not s dim bit--and while there where lots of nice stickers only a few teaching species pages and not enough room to use them on two scene spreads without crowding--the scenes were not the right scale--just did not feel like the usual very educational and high quality products that I expect from DK, including previous sticker book purchases.

Book is only a few pages and stickers do not glow in the dark!!
